

STOCKMANSHIP SCHOOL

More Profitable Herds While Creating Healthier Rangelands

September 23-26, 2021

Cottonwood Guest Ranch O'Neil Basin, Wells, NV

Hands-on and classroom learning that helps achieve great control over herds to improve and protect riparian areas, better utilize upland feed, improve stock health and reduce ranch costs

Instructor

Whit Hibbard

Whit is a fourth generation Montana rancher. He has been teaching clinics on low-stress livestock handling (a particular form of stockmanship) as developed by Bud Williams since 2012. Whit is the publisher and editor of Stockmanship Journal (stockmanshipjournal.com) and writes a stockmanship series for Drovers and OnPasture.

Featuring assistant teachers and Stockmanship coaches: Dave Voth, Tim Westfall, and Roger Ingram.

Participants can receive free stockmanship follow-up help by phone or email while implementing these practices when they return home.

Topics to Be Covered

- Stockmanship: conventional vs. low stress
- Economic benefits of stockmanship
- Stockmanship fundamentals: mindset, attitude, working with and preparing animals, principles, techniques
- Driving
- Corral work
- Facilities
- Fenceline weaning and riding for health post-weaning
- Loading out
- Placing cattle on range without fences
- Solving handling challenges: riparian loafers, bunch quitters
- Range management principles and flexible grazing for riparian function and recovery

Tuition and RSVP: Contact Dave Voth

Email: davemvoth@gmail.com Phone: 775-430-2047

Tuition Cost: $1,000 per person. Make the check out to Dave Voth. Mail the tuition payment to: Dave Voth, PO Box 1723, Elko, NV 89803. Contact Dave at 775-430-2047 or email davemvoth@gmail.com with questions. You must call or email Dave if you wish to attend the school.

Please make sure we have your name and contact information on the registration form that follows if you wish to attend. You can send it to Dave Voth for information, but the Cottonwood Ranch must have this information to reserve lodging and food for you.

Contact Cottonwood Ranch for reserving lodging/camping/renting a horse/bringing a horse or with questions regarding school accommodations.

Cottonwood Ranch's lodging and meal charges:

Lodging ($60/bed/day with 2 to a room); RV Camping $45/day; Tent Camping $15/day; Meals $45/day.

Email: vkasmith@gmail.com Telephone 775-472-0222

Contact Cottonwood Ranch as soon as possible as accommodations are on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Horses:

A limited number of horses are available from the ranch for a daily charge. Please say whether you are bringing your horse or need one to use. Working on foot is fine, too.

Cottonwood Stockmanship School
September 23 (9am) - 26 (1pm), 2021
Tuition: $1,000

Registration, Please Return ASAP to the Cottonwood Ranch to ensure your spot in the class or phone the ranch with this information. Address: HC 62 Box 1300, O'Neil Route, Wells, NV 89835

Name _____

Ranch _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Telephone _____ Email _____

Bringing a horse? Circle one: YES NO

Need a horse? Circle one: YES NO

Lodging type:

Cottonwood Lodge

RV Hookups

Tent or Camping

Please make tuition checks out to Dave Voth. Send checks to Dave Voth, PO Box 1723, Elko, NV 89803

Questions? Contact Dave Voth at 775-430-2047 or davemvoth@gmail.com

Sending your tuition reserves a spot for you at the school but you must still contact the ranch to reserve lodging and/or food.